“Where teaching begins...” A closer look at the Reggio Emilia approach

“Where teaching begins...” A closer look at the Reggio Emilia approach

3 March 2018: Durban

Join the Africa Reggio Emilia Alliance and like-minded educators from KwaZulu-Natal for a day-long workshop on the core principles of the Reggio Emilia approach. Hear from local educators on how they're drawing inspiration from the approach and applying it in their local contexts, and ground your understandings of the Reggio philosophy during a series of practical activities designed to help you deepen your teaching practice and reflect on how you see your children and their potential. While tailored toward teachers, this workshop is also open to parents and interested individuals.

When: 3 March 2018

Where: The Nkulisa Centre, Penzance Primary School
Corner Penzance and ZK Matthews Roads
Umbilo, Durban

Time: 9:00-15:30

Cost: R400 per person (non-AREA members)
R375 early-bird registration (before 1 February)
R360 per person (AREA members)

Sponsorships are available for teachers from schools charging less than R800 per month in school fees. Educators from qualifying schools should contact Tessa Browne, Reggio coordinator of the Africa Reggio Emilia Alliance for further information: tessa@reggio.co.za; 0864240007 (fax); 082 852 6424 (cell)
