What are these Perceptual Skills Workshops all about?

Research shows that children learn best when using all of their senses. These workshops are designed to answer the questions;

- ✓ What does this mean?
- ✓ How do we ensure that our teaching offers the best opportunities to develop these skills?
- ✓ What about children who have delays and what should we do?

Who should attend?

It is open to anyone who is teaching or caring for young children. No formal qualification is required.

What will you gain?

You will have

- ✓ Met other passionate early years teachers with whom you can share ideas
- ✓ Developed your own self-esteem and sense of uniqueness
- ✓ Increased your knowledge of using the senses in daily teaching including
 - What are perceptual skills?
 - How do children acquire them and what should I offer?
 - How do I create a sensory-rich environment & programme
 - How do I identify problems or delays and what can I do?
 - How and what do I assess & where do I refer if required?
- ✓ Explored and gained skills in planning & presenting appropriate activities and intervention strategies
- ✓ A set of notes
- ✓ A certificate of attendance

How much does it cost?

The course costs R 300 for each workshop and this includes notes and tea.
